

Invitation for the submission of applications for the ESTP course ‘Quality framework, process and product quality measurement – Advanced course’ in Rome on 25-27 September 2018 (2,5 days)

Dear Madam/Sir,

Within the framework of the European Statistical Training Programme (ESTP), ICON-INSTITUT Public Sector GmbH is organising the ESTP course ‘Quality framework, process and product quality measurement – Advanced course’ and invites you to submit the applications of interested candidates. The course will be delivered on 25-27 September 2018 in Rome (Italy). Please note that this course will comprise 2.5 days.

This training course is designed for employees of national statistical agencies involved in quality management, measurement and reporting.

You will find attached more detailed course information, as well as the application form. Please provide us with the application forms of potential candidates by 29.06.2018 and kindly send them to estp@icon-institute.de.

Should more applications be received than the number of available places, admission will be decided on the basis of the relevance of the training course to the applicant’s job and of a national quota. In case of multiple applications, please indicate the order of priority.

Candidates will be informed by us about their admission shortly after the application deadline has closed and will receive a confirmation with further administrative information. National contact points will also receive a copy of this message.

For countries benefiting from co-operation programmes the cost of participation in the course may, within the general framework conditions, be supported by the respective grant agreement currently in force. Please contact your international department in case of questions.

For further information, please have a look on the ESS ESTP website at <http://ec.europa.eu/eurostat/web/ess/about-us/estp>.

Yours faithfully,

Natacha BRENNER
